

Accountants toast landmark year

Wirral based accountants, Woods Squared celebrated in style, with a wine tasting session for all their key clients and contacts.

The event, which was hosted by Scatchards of Chester, was held at the historic Birkenhead Town Hall. Guests were treated to a fine selection of wines complimented by a mouth-watering selection of nibbles created by Wirral's Chef of the Year, Colin Parry of La Paz in West Kirby.

Managing Director, Alan Woods commented: 'We really wanted to thank all of our clients and contacts for all of their support over the past twelve months. We've had a pretty remarkable year culminating in our win for Business Start of the Year at the Wirral Investment Network awards, but we recognise it is our clients who have helped us get there.'

The firm, managed by husband and wife team Alan and Tracy Woods, pride themselves on a unique approach to accountancy. 'We are a young and vibrant firm,' commented Tracy, 'we really see ourselves as part of the management team of any business, working alongside the directors as a kind of virtual finance director. This enables us to really understand the businesses we work with, ensuring we offer the best advice and of course generate maximum savings.'

So far, this approach is proving phenomenally successful with the firm managing to save a staggering £1,956,232 for clients to date.

Director Alan Woods said: "We have had a really successful 2008 –
